SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. YOUNGSTOWN, May 19.-Jeter J. Van Etten, an alleged minister, who under the clerical guise has been defrauding gullible people, was arrested at Toledo last night, and Marshal Williams left for that city today, and will bring him here to answer a charge of defrauding a widow, Mrs. Julia A. Homer, out of $4,000 worth of property. Van Etten came here last fall and represented that he had been sent out from New York to distribute tracts among the heathen of Ohio, and secured boarding with Mrs.

Homer. He was apparently a devout man, offering a blessing at each meal, and always carried a Bible. Mrs. Homer had some trouble in dispossessing a tenant and Van Etten suggested that she should transfer the property to him, and he would oast the party. This she did, deeding him the premises, valued at $4,000. Van Etten at once mortgaged the property for $2,000, secured the money and left the city, and Mrs. Homer has been engaged since in an effort to have the deed set aside and mortgage cancelled.

The officers claim that Van Etten has been defrauding parties at Ravenna and other places in the State by working the clerical racket.

IMPORTANT DECISION. A Injunction to Restrain the Shutting Off of Natural Gas Refused. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

WHEELING, May 19 .- A decision of the utmost importance to manufacturers in the gas region, as well as those interested in natural gas companies, was rendered by Judge Pauil, in Part I. of the Circuit Court of this county yesterday. The case was that of the Wheeling Iron and Nail Company against the Wheeling Natural Gas Company, and was an application for a mandatory and prohibitory injunction, as well as compensation for damages alleged by the plaintiff to have been sustained at the hands of the defendant company. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 19.-Eureka detectives have finally succeeded in breakthieves, incendiaries and general crooks which had made its headquarters; in Fayette county, in the vicinity of the mines of the Fire Creek Coal and Coke Company The gang was a mixed up one of blacks and whites, and several women were connected with it. The breaking up of the gang is the result of losses inflicted upon the Fire Creek Company storehouse.

A storehouse belonging to the company was destroyed by fire last January by members of the gang, who had previously plundered the building, and in March the Drum house and other buildings were burned by the same parties. The company then put the matter in the hands of detectives. Some of the gang were pursued through several counties before being captured.

One of Their Number. PORTLAND, ORE., May 19 .- News has just been received that ten of the crew of the foundered steamer Alaskan have come ashore at Florence, near the mouth of the Sinslaw river, in Lane county. The following is an account of the experience of the survivors:

After leaving the ship the men were tossed in a fearful manner by the great storm. After being on the sea for some hours they came to shore at Cape Perpetua, about fourteen miles north of the Suisslaw patrons in this city and vicinity, the natural gas company stipulated in its own behalf that in the event that the supply of gas count of the huge breakers, and unable to land their boat on ac-count of the huge breakers, and also on account of the rocky nature of the coast at that point. Mrs. Pfeiffer, soon after her marriage, developed a taste for theatricals and wanted to go on the stage, but her husband objected and the plan was abandoned. She became acquainted with a man named Plato, who was a smooth, plausible talker. Mrs. Slocum Tells of Her Long Voyage From Brazil.

NO MONEY TO PAY THEIR WAY,

But, Nothing Daunted, They Constructed a Tiny Sail Boat.

NOT EAGER FOR ANOTHER SUCH TRIP

NEW YORK, May 19 .- Tales of Captain Slocum and his wonderful small boat, La Libertad, have been told far and wide, and veryone is more or less acquainted with the fact of his having been shipwrecked off the coast of Brazil when sailing his own brig. There he subsequently constructed the tiny craft in which he has sailed with his family 7,000 miles to these shores. A reporter went down to the small boat, bobbing and rolling with every ripple of the tide that flowed around the gray stone walls of the Barge Office, close to which La Libertad was anchored.

"Can you get in?" This question was Mrs. Slocum's greeting when her husband introduced the reporter, whom he had just handed on board, and who stood at the entrance to the low canvascovered deckhouse, the only shelter afforded The hostess sat in the wee cabin on a plank running the length and raised about three inches from the deck. A sitting posture was the only attitude possible unless one chose to lie down. Mrs. Slocum is a young. strong, finely developed woman of perhaps five or six and twenty. Her brown hair is brushed smoothly back from a broad, full brow; bright hazel eyes, a frank smiling mouth, and a chin expressing both firmness and tenderness, are the features of an oval face which has acquired a rich bronze tint from months of exposure to tropical suns and ocean breezes. HAS HAD HER SHARE. "It is an experience which I should not care to repeat, although now that it is mine I feel a certain satisfaction in having gone through it. As you know, Captain 9 A. O. H. and Sister Divisions as well as Slocum's brig, the Aquidneck, was wrecked a year ago last January at Paranagua. That is a small town inhabited by natives. Most of our luggage and some of the furniture were saved, but the vessel went to pieces, and we had no insurance. My hus-band fell ill with jungle fever and we had much trouble." Mrs. Slocum sighed and was silent a moment. "The reason the small boat happened to be adopted as an expedient was because we hadn't enough money to pay our passage home. There were four of us-the Captain's two sons, Victor, who helped his father build and navigate the boat, and little Gar-field, who is eight years old. It is a mistake about the boat having been constructed of the ship's timbers. She is built of en-tirely new wood of a very fine quality. We were in a great lumber country and it was easy to get the best, only it had all to be sawed by hand, so getting it ready con-sumed much time. The only native labor employed was in sawing planks; all the rest of the work, every hammer stroke, was done by Victor and Captain Slocum; only I LAUNCHING OF THE BOAT. "The boat was ready to launch on the 13th of May, and that being the day when the slaves in Brazil were liberated we called her La Libertad, which means liberty, in commemoration of the occasion. It was the 24th of June before we sailed. Just there" -pointing outside the entrance-"stood two big water casks. Behind them provision were stowed. There's the stove over which we did our cooking." It was a small iron pot on three legs, in which a handful of charcoal could be kindled. "When we reached colder latitudes, in November, we sometimes used it to heat the cabin, letting the gas burn off and then placing it at the

"Didn't you grow weary and lonely during the long voyage?"

"The loneliness came and went early in the voyage. The weariness grew because it was impossible to get any exercise. There was no chance to walk on the narrow deck, and much of the time it was not possible even to stand outside." "Were you more oppressed by a sense of loneliness when you first embarked?"

"Yes. When we left Rio they gave us a great send-off. Captain Slocum had obtained a permit to all ports, duty free, from the marine office, and also had been granted permission to sail under the flag of Brazil. They thought it a great honor to allow so small a craft to carry their colors. Crowds of people assembled on the quays to see us off and they cheered us wildly. It was very exciting. Then, as the land grew dim in the distance and finally faded from sight, it seemed very desolate on the sea.

"In a few days, however, I had learned to like the life on board—I became accustomed to my surroundings, and was not only con-tented but happy. Wherever we touched the most lively interest was manifested, and when we went ashore we were delightfully entertained. At Porto Rico we lay two days. The United States Consul there in-vited us to dine and drove us out to his father's plantation, where we had a charm-

A WEDDING JOURNEY. "Are you going on another voyage, Mrs.

"Oh, I hope not. I haven't been home in over three years, and this was my wedding journey." The young woman twisted round and round a heavy golden ring which shone on her slender finger and looked a good deal more embarrassed at the statement than she could possibly have done it she'd been on shore all that time. Perhaps honeymoons shine longer when lovers are on the broad sea in little boats.

Young Garfield Slocum here put in an appearance. He is a tanned, freckled, jolly little chap, who says he'd like to go on another voyage 'most any time." He displayed some trophies—a whale's tooth, a curious bivalve with a hinge big and strong enough for a five-barred gate, and the jaw bones of a shark bristling with a most for midable set of "upper and under teeth"

When the pulse beats feebly: when the energy is gone; when the appetite is weak and sleep uncertain, then the body is in a condition of actual "low life." No matter what the causes may have been Nature has given way, and unless her strength is restored, disease is certain to take possession of the body. The first thing any doctor does in such a case is to assist Nature. Here are some instances:

Prof. Austin Flint, of Bellevue (New York) College, says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century."

The celebrated Dr. J. M. Carnwall says: "I am most happy to say, after a very thorough test, that for persons suffering with nervous and general debility or any wasting disease, or for delicate persons or invalids, Duffy's Pure mait Whiskey is the best tonic and purest stimulant with which I am acquainted."

There are no higher scientific authorities than these, and they speak volumes. Beware of all bottled whiskies which may be offered you, except Duffy's. It has stood the test of time and is absolutely pure.

Dr. Smith is performing some of the most wonderful cures ever witnessed in Pittaburg. Scores and bundreds of invalids who have hitherto been unable to find relief from their sufferings are being restored to health in large numbers through Dr. Smith's strange magnetic yower. It is exceedingly interesting to see and talk with the vast number of invalids suffering from all manner of emphasizations.

place in many of these seemingly nelpless cases. Scores of invalids who are so weak and feeble that they have to be carried to the doctor in chairs and on beds are restored to health in a short time. Some are cared by one, some by two magnetic treatments, while others require more. The following very interesting cases were cured by our magnetic treatment:

Mr. Geo. T. Hartrey, who resides at Spring-fale, Pa., has been a great sufferer from constipation hasmorrhoid (piles) and from fistales for a number of years. Pile tumors as large as a black walnut made their appearance several years ago, and were the cause of much suffering. These tumors were often prolapsed, and would bleed so profusely as to cause extreme prostration. As the disease advanced four fistules made their appearance, and were so painful that he was obliged to give up his business, and was unable to perform any manual labor. Mr. Hartrey had tried the skill of a number of physicians but had been unable to find relief until he applied to Dr. Smith the magnetic physician, at No. 502 Penn avenue, who cured him permanently without the use of the knife or ligature. Dr. Smith agreed to cure him for a certain sum of money, which Mr. H. paid him at the beginning of the treatment. Mr. Hartrey was permanently cured in a short time and may be referred to.

Mr. Peet, owner and manager of Imperial Hall was a great sufferer from vericoccie for Hartrey was permanently cured in a short time and may be referred to.

Mr. Peet, owner and manager of Imperial Hall was a great sufferer from vericocele for many years. He applied to Dr. Smith and was permanently cured. He may be referred to. Mr. John Foley, who resides at Millvaie, was taken with a terrible pain in his right shoulder upward of five months ago. The attack came on suddenly, like a shock of paralysis. The arm became useless in a few moments' time. He could not use the hand nor move a finger. A short time after the attack he began to experience pain in the shoulder. The pain increased in severity for a number of days, when it was discovered that there was an accumulation of pus in the shoulder joint. Mr. Feley applied to a doctor, who opened the shoulder with the knife. Large quantities of pus was discharged at the time and a fistula formed, which continued to discharge a thin acrid pus. In this helpless and hopeless condition he applied to Dr. Smith, the magnetic physician, at 502 Penn avenue, and was cured perfectly. He has regained the use of his arm.

J. C. Henderson had been tortured with piles for ten years. He was cured by Dr. Smith in one week.

Dr. Smith cures all forms of female complaints without the use of instruments of ex-posure of the person. He also cures piles and rupture without the use of the knife, or pain to the patient, nor detention from business. He treats and cures cancers in less time and with less pain than by any other known wathold
